

Parker King, Front Desk Agent, Grand Bohemian Hotel Asheville, Asheville, NC

For a long time I knew that I wanted to share my great experiences with the hospitality industry with people and “return the favor” so to speak. This desire led me to get my degree in hospitality management and begin my career in the hotel business.

Shortly before college graduation, while working for another hotel company, I took a visit to the Grand Bohemian Orlando. After seeing what a Kessler Collection hotel encompassed, I made it a personal goal of mine to work with them. It also just so happened they were about to open a new property in my hometown of Asheville, North Carolina. I took a chance after college graduation and moved back home to be a part of the hotel’s grand opening team and it couldn’t have been a better experience.

In only the ten months we’ve been open I’ve learned more than I ever thought I would, been challenged and encouraged on a daily basis, and overall had a great experience with a team of truly “Grand Performers.” I’m anxious to see what happens next as we round out our first year as a hotel and as I continue my career with the Kessler Collection
