

Sam Hudson, Bartender, Grand Bohemian Hotel Asheville, Asheville, NC

My name is Sam Hudson and I am the day shift bartender at the Red Stag Grill in the Grand Bohemian Hotel Asheville. I grew up in Turkey, North Carolina and have been a professional Bartender in several establishments.

I knew when I discovered the Grand Bohemian while “web surfing” in late 2008, that I had found something special. I decided to travel up the mountain to Asheville and see the place. Of course, I was impressed by the building itself. I love this place, my job, and the people. With Kessler, you are allowed to do your job, show your strengths, and are allowed to grow as a professional. The atmosphere here is realistic and professional. Being here makes you feel a part of something, and I like that. As they say, I hit it out of the park this time by coming to work here.
